NOTES: 70E 130.7(C)(10) / Z462 Table 5

- Arc rating for garments is expressed in calories per centimeter squared (cal/cm²)
- When rubber insulating gloves (IG) with leather protectors are required by NFPA 70E 130.7(C)(9) / CSA Z462 Table 4, additional leather gloves or arc-rated gloves shall not be required.
- An alternate to arc rated shirts and pants in HRC 1 or HRC 2 is an arc rated coveralls with minimum of 4 cal/cm² for HRC 1 and minimum of 8 cal/cm² for HRC 2.
- Face shields are required for HRC 1 (4 cal/cm²) and HRC 2 (8 cal/cm²) with wrap-around guarding to protect face, forehead, ears and neck. HRC 2* requires the use of balaclava/sock hood and face shield with a minimum of 8 cal/cm². Alternatively an appropriately arc-rated flash suit hood may be used.
- Minimum arc rating of 25 is required for HRC 3 which can be accomplished using a total FR clothing system [shirt and pants and/or coveralls and/or coat and pant] and hood.
- Minimum arc rating of 40 is required for HRC 4 which can be accomplished using a total FR clothing system [shirt and pants and/or coveralls and/or coat and pant] and hood.

Table X* Hazard Risk Categories that are Known to be Extremely Dangerous
480V Building Service Entrance Equipment	IG/IT 4+
Equipment on 480V/secondary side of an Ind/Comm substation	IG/IT 4+
All equipment on the load side of circuit breakers containing a short-time delay setting. Temporary removal of short time-delay is	IG/IT 4+

The above areas are known to commonly equal or exceed a HRC4; calculations should be done prior to energized work

General Notes: (applicable to the tasks that are 600 volts or less)

- Insulating rubber gloves are gloves rated for the maximum line-to-line voltage upon which work will be done.
- Insulated tools rated and tested for the maximum line-to-line voltage upon which work will be done, and are manufactured and tested in accordance with ASTM F1505 & CANULC-D60900, Standard Specification for Insulated and Insulating Hand Tools / 1000VAC / 1500VDC
- For systems rated less than 1000 volts, the fault currents and upstream protective device clearing times are based on an 18 in. working distance.
- For equipment protected by upstream current limiting fuses with arcing fault current in their current limiting range (1/2 cycle fault clearing time or less), the hazard/risk category required may be reduced by one number.

Specific Notes: (as referenced within the tables)

- Max. of 25 kA short circuit current available; max. of 0.03 sec (2 cycle) fault clearing time.
- Max. of 65 kA short circuit current available; max. of 0.03 sec (2 cycle) fault clearing time.
- Max. of 42 kA short circuit current available; max. of 0.33 sec (20 cycle) fault clearing time.
- Max. of 35 kA short circuit current available; max. of up to 0.5 sec (30 cycle) fault clearing time

Notes:

- A complete ARC FLASH HAZARD ANALYSIS should be done, if fault clearing times vary from those described within the Specific Notes, rendering these tables alone INSUFFICIENT.
- IG/IT indicates the required use of insulating rubber gloves, leather protectors & insulated tools.
- IG indicates a requirement for the use of insulating rubber gloves and leather protectors.
- LWG indicates a requirement of leather gloves.
- Hazard Risk Category (HRC) is defined in the last column, by one of five categories 0, 1, 2, 3 & 4 (0 being the least dangerous and 4 being the most dangerous)
